The Duties of a Juror

The Citizen hesitates to discuss the verdict of a jury—particularly a jury of New Mexico citizens—because the trial by jury is one of the greatest factors in American freedom and American justice.

The Citizen believes that the average juror tries to deal out justice and this has been demonstrated in the consideration of evidence in a number of prominent cases recently.

Therefore in commenting upon the Domingo Valles case, in which the latter is acquitted by a jury of Torrance county men of the murder of Colonel Francisco Chavez, The Citizen can only say that there is a diversity of opinion as to Valles' innocence or guilt among the people, which should not be the case after a fair and impartial trial by a jury.

But aside from the jury's verdict there is another matter of importance in this trial. It was the apparent failure of certain American citizens to realize the responsibility, the honor and the duty incumbent upon them as jurors prospective in this case.

The Citizen believes that it is a high privilege, however, hard the work may be, for an American citizen to be chosen to aid in carrying out the laws he has made by co-operating in a jury box with fellow citizens to see that the accused is given a fair trial and a trial according to law and justice.

Therefore the following portion of the court stenographer's record in the Valles case, taken in the examination of Juror H. I. Lutz, of Willard, N. M., is deeply interesting, since it shows or at least, indicates a condition, which should never exist in an American community. The court record reads as follows:

By the court:
Q. Are you from Willard also?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You came up with these other gentlemen?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Are you another of the business men down there who have friends on both sides?
A. No, sir, I have no particular friends on either side.
Q. And is it your fear of making enemies and hurting your business that causes you to make such an attempt as you have made here to get off the jury?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you talk with these other gentlemen on your way up about this case?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You talked among yourselves how you were going to get off?
A. No, sir.
Q. But you talked about the facts and circumstances of the case?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Told one another all that you knew about it?
A. Yes, sir, what we had heard.
Q. You knew you were summoned here as jurors to try this case?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you must have known that it was highly improper for persons who were summoned as jurors to talk over the case in which you were summoned as jurors?
A. We did not know it.
Q. You supposed it was proper to talk it over among yourselves and inform each other of all the facts in your possession?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you did that with the idea of informing yourself about the case so you would be disqualified and would not have to serve on the jury?
A. No, sir.
Judge Mann: As you have already been challenged, I am going to excuse you, but your conduct and that of the other jurors who were summoned with you, is certainly not very becoming to the public. The fact should be known to all that you are all up here and fine you for contempt of court. Business men ought to know better and have more respect and regard for the law and the courts than to do a thing like that. You may stand aside.

The Citizen is endeavoring to maintain its news service despite the fact that only the most meager press report can be obtained. The strike of the telegraphers, which is spreading at last reports, has practically cut off the news service not only here but in many other portions of the country. As usual in a strike, the great "third party" suffers, and in commenting thereon, the Kansas City Star says: "The strike of telegraph operators is becoming general and serious. It is one of the possibilities that telegraphic communication may be badly crippled in various parts of the country before an adjustment is reached. In this case, as in all others involving the public utilities, the great 'third party' will suffer heavily at the hands of those directly interested by reason of their failure to compose their differences by arbitration. As to the merits of these differences, the public is not nearly so much concerned as it is with the service it has a right to expect of the public service corporations. The fault may be with the companies and it may be with the operators, or both may be to blame. But what the people have a right to ask is that both of these contending interests shall do their utmost to keep the strike from spreading and to restore service as soon as possible wherever it has been interrupted. Public service corporations are under special obligations to keep faith with the public. This fact should not be taken advantage of by the union men employed in such service. On the contrary these men share in the responsibility. If they choose a business or a profession paid for by the public and having the right of operation through public grants, the obligation to observe good faith is strong. And aside from this obligation, the matter of self interest affecting both sides should have a potential bearing. It is a good thing to keep people satisfied with the service they receive. It is good for the corporations and for their employees."

The enthusiastic inauguration and reception tendered Governor Curry by the good people of this territory at Santa Fe last week, augurs well for his future as our executive. Governor Curry has the confidence of the people and of the republican leaders and his determination not to recognize factional rights, will give him much more latitude in choosing his appointees than Hagerman had under his narrow and biased administration. Governor Curry is broad minded in public and private life and he will not be found wanting when he is called upon to decide upon a course of action in an emergency. Having no wealthy father to pay the bills, the new governor will, of course, not employ "expert" counsel to tell him what to do. His record shows that he is possessed of brains of his own and uses them very effectively. Governor Curry will make good.

The morning paper is now out with a miniature appeal to give the new governor a chance. Governor Curry is not a man to ask for "quarter" but he will doubtless appreciate it if the morning paper will kindly refrain from accusing him of graft, fraud and conspiracy until he gets his hat and coat off, and takes a seat in the executive office. The morning paper should give Governor Curry a chance.

The morning paper believes that Miguel A. Otero is about to take a hand in territorial politics. By looking over its files the morning paper will no doubt discover that Miguel A. Otero has taken a part in territorial politics for some time.

A great many people were shocked by the ride of the burlesque Lady Godiva in a flesh-colored union suit at Coventry, England. The lady who did the al fresco pose was not among the number.

It is reported, and, apparently on good authority, that among the changes in territorial officials, an Albuquerque man's name is mentioned for a prominent position.

The Richest unmarried woman in France is the Princess Marie Bonaparte. How she has so far eluded Count Boni is inexplicable.

The latest author to get well advertised by his books being excluded from a public library is Horatio Alger, Jr.

DO YOU GET THE CITIZEN?

Owing to the fact that even the best carrier boys The Citizen is able to secure will now and then fail to deliver your paper and also owing to the fact that your neighbor may now and then unthinkingly appropriate The Citizen left at your door and forget to return it, this paper has arranged with the Postal Telegraph company to deliver you an extra copy in the event that yours fails to reach you. There is no additional expense to you. If your paper does not reach you by regular carrier call up the Postal Telegraph company. PHONE NUMBER 36 and tell them. A messenger boy will supply you with a copy of The Citizen. In this manner, we can also keep track of the "misses" of our own carriers and you can get your paper rain or shine.

J. Fisher, secretary of the board of pharmacy, with headquarters at Santa Fe, left yesterday for a fishing trip up the Pecos. He will be absent from the city about two weeks.

S. B. Grimshaw, general manager of the Santa Fe railroad, which runs between Torrance and Santa Fe, spent today in Albuquerque on business. Mr. Grimshaw reports conditions prosperous and business good.

Bert Bassett, charged with disturbing the peace, John Cook, charged with being drunk on the streets and Jim White, charged with being drunk and disorderly, were arraigned before Police Judge Craig this morning. All pleaded guilty and were disposed of in the usual manner.

The big sale at the Golden Rule still booming. Chance to clothe yourself at away down prices. Music tonight by the Barnum & Bailey sextette under the direction of Professor Ellis. Come and buy, and see what your neighbors buy. Enjoyable occasion promised.

E. A. Clarke, who recently resigned as manager for the Postal Telegraph company at Winslow, Arizona, is in the city awaiting transportation to La Junta, Colorado. Mr. Clarke has left the service of the Postal company and will accept a position with the Santa Fe on his arrival at La Junta.

Hon. Frank H. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster general, one of the important Washington officials who stands closest to President Roosevelt, and who was a visitor in Santa Fe for several days last week, passed through the city Saturday evening en route to the Grand Canyon before returning to Washington.

Albuquerque friends received word yesterday of the death Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McFarland, of Magdalena. Scarlet fever was the cause of demise. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland have many friends in Albuquerque who sympathize with them in their bereavement. Mr. McFarland is a trusted employee of the Becker-Blackwell company.

Dr. F. W. Redeker, of Bloomfield, Pa., is spending a few days in the city. Dr. Redeker arrived Saturday evening on train No. 8, which brought Fireman Bancroft, who was quite badly scalded in a freight wreck near Grants Saturday afternoon, to this city. He attended the injured man until the arrival of the railroad physician, and today made a visit to the Santa Fe hospital to learn of the young man's condition.

"Everybody Should Know," says G. G. Hays, a prominent business man of Bluff, Mo., that Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the quickest and surest healing salve ever applied to a sore, burn or wound, or to a case of piles. I've used it and know what I'm talking about. Guaranteed by all druggists, 25c.

The sale was recorded today of a piece of land in La Ladera, precinct No. 12, for $200 by Cruz Martinez de Anaya and husband to Jose B. Lebario and wife. The land was a trip on the Manzano national forest, says a number of new roads are being projected in the reserve under his charge.

W. P. Metcalf, the real estate and insurance agent, who came down from Santa Fe yesterday after a short visit to his fruit ranch on Santa Fe creek, tells a good joke on himself, with reference to getting old. "I was nosing around the Santa Fe depot at Santa Fe Saturday when a dapper young clerk, walked up and said, 'Well, dad, what can I do for you?' I looked at him for a moment," continued Mr. Metcalf, "and then concluded that the boy was right; I must be getting old. I have been trying to make myself believe otherwise for several years, but what the young man said settles it."

WOMAN SWOONED ENROUTE TO HOME

Mrs. H. J. Rhider Fell to Sidewalk at Sixth Street and Copper Avenue Sunday Morning—Quickly Revived.

While en route to her home Sunday morning from the immaculate Conception church, Mrs. H. J. Rhider, wife of a well known engineer, swooned and fell to the sidewalk, striking her head forcibly.

Mrs. Rhider fell in front of the home of Dr. Wroth, near the corner of Sixth street and Copper avenue, and she was assisted into the house and given attention.

Later she was taken to her home in a cab.

Merchants of Albuquerque.
All the business men of Albuquerque can assist materially in advertising the big fair, by bringing to The Citizen office their business envelopes and having an advertisement printed upon the reverse side. The fair association will pay all charges, and the management urges all who are interested in its success to avail themselves of this means of rendering assistance.

TO AILING WOMEN.

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Albuquerque.

No woman can be healthy and well if the kidneys are sick. Poisons that pass off in the urine when the kidneys are well are retained in the body when the kidneys are sick. Kidneys and bladder get inflamed and swollen, crowding the delicate female organs nearby and sometimes displacing them. This is the true cause of many bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, sideache, etc. Uric poisoning also causes headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that cures sick kidneys. You will get better as the kidneys get better, and health will return when the kidneys are well. Let an Albuquerque woman tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. H. Adair, of 817 South Edith street, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "Whether my symptoms indicated kidney trouble or not, I was not certain, but nevertheless from reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I was given a desire to try them to see if they would not afford me at least some relief from the pain between and just below the shoulder blades. While on my feet or stirring around, I did not feel the slightest inconvenience, but when I would sit down, the pain would assert itself and at times was very severe. The use of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills brought relief that warrants my having a high appreciation of this medicine."
